January 16, 1977

Dear Writers:

I told many of you that the PSLQ writers would be the first to know and, except for the volunteer staff, you are: I've decided to scratch current plans for a review publication.

You all deserve an explanation, but I feel it would be more effective in person, so I can treat you to appropriate dramatic gestures and facial expressions.

Please drop by Sunday, January 23, any time between 2 and 8 pm. for a book or two from the remaining review copies, drinks, and a light supper.

Love,

Linda
